

December 2011

Dear Patron Contributors:

Thank you for your generous donations in the past, which have enabled the Foundation Trust to provide direct current support to the library, as well as to a build long-term endowment fund of over $25,000. Now, more than ever, we count on your support for one of Falls Church's most important institutions – our public library, which has served its patron community in this area for over 100 years. Recent awards of 3 stars (2009) and 4 stars (2010 and 2011) by the Library Journal after a national survey of over 7,500 public libraries reflect the quality and activity of your library which was one of only three in Virginia to receive such an award.

Use of the Mary Riley Styles Public Library has increased faster than ever this year, with circulation at an all-time high. Budget pressures on the city and the state have especially eroded those portions of the budget which support new materials and technology. Despite the poor economy, prices have increased on these items. In addition, the library seeks more materials in a number of foreign languages for our increasingly diverse patron base. We also continue to explore new avenues of technology for serving our patrons. For example, the library has just begun a new eBook collection and is seeking support for it. All this takes additional funds, and for that, we depend upon you.

As a 501(c)(3) organization, the Mary Riley Styles Public Library Foundation Trust (MRSPLF Trust) can accept tax-deductible contributions. Please consider a donation to the Trust. You may earmark your donation to support downloadable electronic audio books or traditional bound books, books on disc, DVDs, or the endowment or any other library resource or project. Just send us a note with your donation. All contributions will be greatly appreciated and will be acknowledged by letter for your tax file. The library can also make good use of volunteers if you have free time.
